COURTIN' LINDY LANE.

You did it in the kissin' game, That's how it came about; But still you kissed me, just the same,And you cant rub it out, And, Lindy, ever since that night I havent been exactly right.Why, Lindy, when your lips touched mineIn that 'ere kissin' game, It seemed like elderberry wine Had set me all aflame.If love intoxicates a wooer I've got delirium tremens sure!
And when I'm follering the ploverI hear the crows declare:
"He doesn't see us fellers now; He sees Melindy's hair."And every daisy that I pass Is you a-smiling from the grass.The violet cries: "Her eyes! Her eyes!"And bows its bashful head; The clover dips and sighs: "Her lips; Her lips are warm and red."And all day long the clevis chain Clanks: "Lindy Lane, Melindy Lane."

—C. L. Edison, in Collier's.

It is reported from Washington that Mr. Justice Brandies declined appointment on the Mexican commission because of objections offered by Chief Justice White. The chief justice, of course, has no power in such matters, but it has been a long established precedent of the court to comply with his wishes in such matters.
The reason for wishing to keep the Supreme Court justices from service of this kind is that they take no part in the country's activities, political, commercial or otherwise, in order that the impartiality of their minds may not be disturbed. This looks to be valid cause, and yet at the same time it seems, if they keep themselves so far aloof, they would be lacking in that common information of current affairs and conditions necessary for their guidance. Yet on the other hand, and calm reflection favors this view, if they should participate in the country's activities, it would be difficult for them to keep the impressions and opinions thus gained from entering into their decisions.

The Federal government will have to resort to bond issues and those in charge tell us it is due to preparedness. The trouble with the government is that it is carrying too many enterprises and hence is short on funds for executing its legitimate functions. It is perfectly scandalous the way the government is wasting the people's substance. Both Democrats and Republicans are blameworthy.—Waco Times-Herald.

There is far more truth than poetry in the above statement when we consider the fact that the Senate finance committee has recommended a bond issue of $240,000,000 to take care of the Mexican border situation. And it becomes absolutely staggering when we further consider the statement of the committee, that this vast sum will only pay the border expenses until the end of the calendar year.

Candidate Hughes' speaking trip has been a blessing to the people in one respect in the territory through which he has traveled. His extreme frigidty has given the people relief from the excessive heat wave that prevailed before he came.

If President Wilson fails everywhere else, he can no doubt find a lot of patriots in Texas who would be willing to serve on the commission to settle the Mexican trouble, provided the salary thereto attached and appertaining is sufficiently large and juicy.

New Orleans bakers cannot get enough paper to wrap their bread and other New Orleans residents cannot get enough bread. There is always a shortage somewhere.

The good Lord was with us and spared our crops from another storm disaster. Of course it was terrible on Corpus Christi and other places in its path, but because of a drought of nearly a year, there were no crops in that section for it to destroy.

President Wilson will make political speeches only in localities where he is invited. How dignified that sounds compared to the regular political scramble into which Candidate Hughes has launched.

BOOSTERS SPECIAL
TUESDAY, AUG. 22Bryan Trade Hustlers Will Make Trip on That Date, Taking in Madison and Grimes Counties.

The trade trip of last Wednesday was rained out, but that has not dampened the ardor of the Commercial Association in its efforts to enlarge Bryan's trade territory and committees are at work soliciting cars for the trip to be made next Tuesday, according to the itinerary given below.

It is cars we need. Plenty of men would like to go, but they have no cars. Every man that goes on this trip is boosting for Bryan and if you have a car it is your duty to send it on this trip.

We will have a twelve-piece band with us and although the day will be one of business, we will enjoy the music and the meeting of old friends and the making of new ones. Every business house in Bryan and every professional office should be represented on this trip.

Beginning Monday, September 4, a monthly trades day will be had in Bryan on every first Monday. This trip is for the purpose of advertising that date; advertising the Brazos County Fair to be held October 10-11, and to meet and greet the people to the east of us and in Madison and Grimes counties and ask them to come to Bryan. Will you not help?

The itinerary follows:
TUESDAY, AUG. 22, 1916.

	Bryan

The following have signified their intention of making the trip on next Tuesday. We would like to have more cars and every business house in Bryan should be represented on this trip. If you are intending to go you should phone the Commercial Association at once and if you have a car it is your duty to send it.
